MISSION

Appalachia Service Project is a Christian ministry, open to all people, that inspires hope and service through volunteer home repair and replacement in Central Appalachia.

VISION

Appalachia Service Project envisions the eradication of substandard housing in Central Appalachia and the transformation of everyone who comes in contact with this ministry.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- We believe that each person is a child of God imbued with dignity and worth.
- We accept people right where they are and just the way they are.
- We believe that all people should be able to live in affordable, safe, and sanitary housing.
- We are committed to witness through the good quality of our work and careful stewardship of our resources.
- We believe God calls people to serve others as volunteer partners in ministry and we will encourage their growth in faith as they answer this call.
- Where ASP is involved in local communities we will encourage, affirm, and support the fair and just treatment of people.
- We believe in ministering in the spirit of love, acceptance, and hopefulness.

NON-DISCRIMINATION STATEMENT

Because ASP believes everyone is a child of God, all are welcome to participate respectfully and peacefully with ASP, regardless of race, color, religion, gender identity, sex, age, national origin, ethnicity, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or military status.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

ASP Family & Friends,

Thank you for being such a generous and loyal friend to Appalachia Service Project. You have made it possible for us to do remarkable work serving 291 families with home repair and replacement throughout Appalachia in 2022. I am grateful beyond words for all that was accomplished this year, for flood victims, for families struggling to keep their homes warm, safe, and dry and for the transformation of so many lives—volunteers, staff, and the families served.

My hope is that this 2022 Gratitude Report will give you a sense of all we've accomplished together. Your faithfulness has provided the resources needed so that our volunteers and staff could be the hands and feet of Jesus to families living in uncertainty.

Many families in Appalachia lack basic necessities that you and I simply take for granted most days. Things like a roof that doesn't leak, floors we can walk on without fear of falling through, plumbing and electrical that works when we flip a switch or turn on a faucet, walls without holes that keep us warm from the elements outside, a functional bathroom. But, thanks to your support, we're restoring homes and rebuilding lives, providing hope and building relationships.

I hope this report shows you all the good you've made possible. We are so thankful for friends like you and so are the families we serve. The Daniels family in Kentucky said it best:

"Our home was very bad. We had a leaking roof, moldy walls, rotten walls, leaking gutters and no insulation. But God sent blessings from above. We are so thankful and hope God will bless each and every person who has helped make such a profound difference in our lives."

Thank you for giving generously and caring deeply about those living in poverty. Your partnership is never taken for granted and your compassion is truly changing lives for grateful families across Appalachia.

BRIEF HISTORY OF ASP

In 1969, Rev. Glenn “Tex” Evans—a Methodist minister—became one of the first people to connect the energy of youth with the deep needs of the poor.

During Tex’s 13 years as director at Henderson Settlement in Frakes, Kentucky, he witnessed the great need for home repair assistance. So as part of his already-thriving outreach to the people of Appalachia, he recruited 50 teens and adult volunteers to repair homes in Barbourville, Kentucky. They worked on-site during the day and worshiped in the evenings. By summer’s end, four families had safe, warm homes for the winter, 50 young lives had been changed forever—and a longstanding legacy was born.

But Tex was more than a leader; he was a born motivator. A true student of Appalachian culture and a legendary storyteller, he set the tone for what ASP is today: an extended family where laughter is king. Where relationships matter. And where changing the lives of families and volunteers alike is the highest priority of all.

Our philosophy of service has remained the same since our founding: ASP encourages people to act responsibly in the face of human need and injustice.

By transforming faith into ASP service, volunteers respond to a specific need: housing. By putting aside their own needs and desires, ASP volunteers free themselves to share talent, love, and concern with the people of Appalachia and with one another.

*More important than construction know-how is a willingness to enter the communities and homes of Central Appalachia with sensitivity, concern, and love—accepting people right where they are and just the way they are.

WHERE WE SERVE

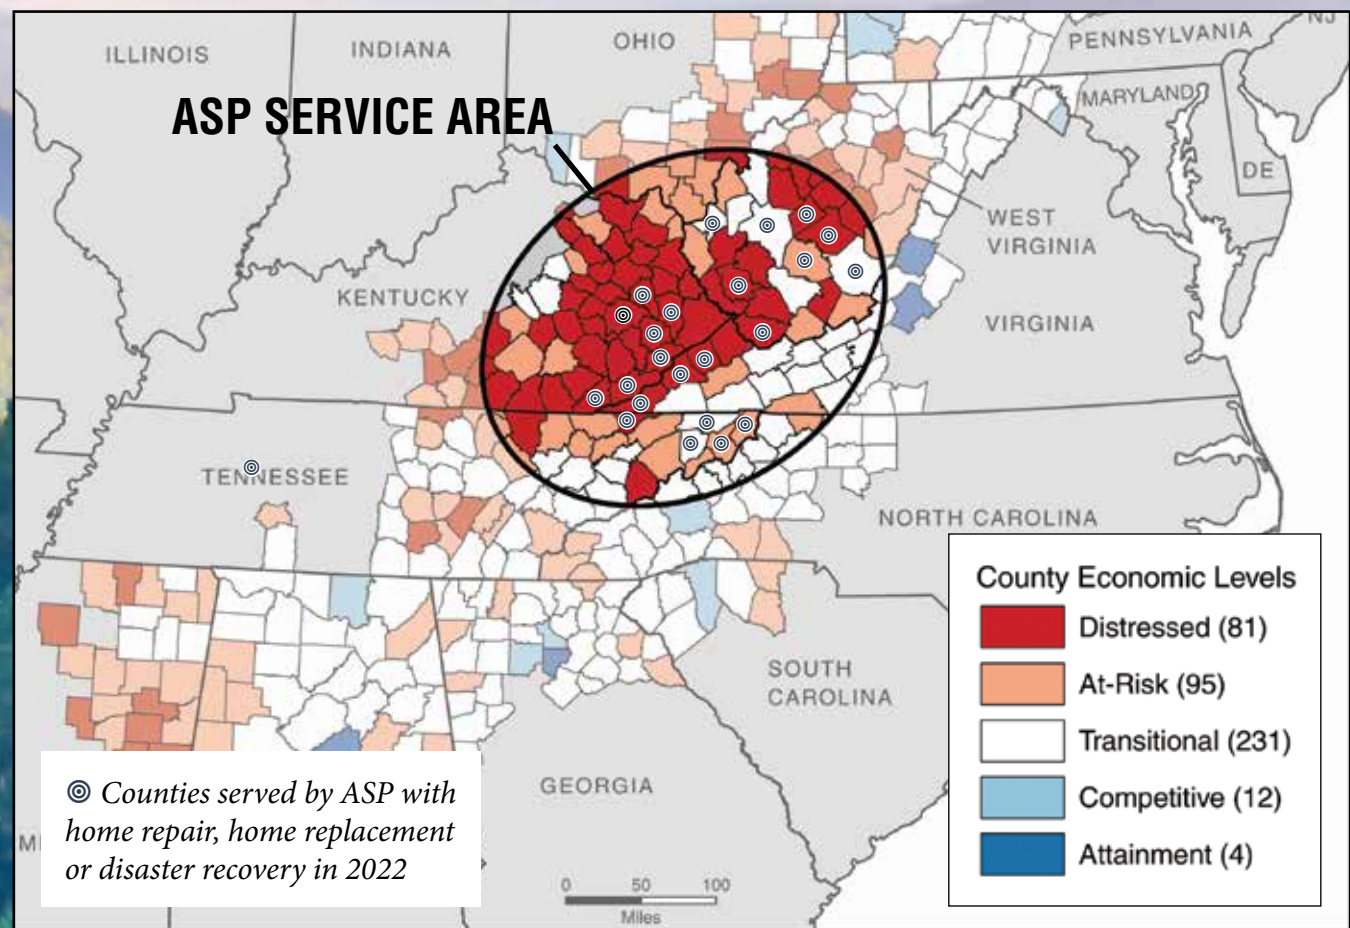

Appalachia Service Project serves mostly rural communities across the Central Appalachian region of Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

From June through August, ASP works in 20+ communities across Central Appalachia. ASP leases schools, churches, and community centers to act as summer centers for volunteers and staff. September through early May, ASP operates from permanent facilities in Southwest Virginia and Northeast Tennessee to provide critical home repair and replacement in Appalachia.

In 2022, 24 counties* were served by ASP through a variety of programs.

- Home Repair: 21 counties
- New Build (new home construction): 3 counties
- Disaster Recovery & Rebuild: 2 counties

Some counties were served by multiple ASP programs*

HOME REPAIR

Rev. Glenn “Tex” Evans had a vision when he started Appalachia Service Project—to connect the youth of our nation in serving our friends and neighbors in rural Appalachia. In 1969, that first summer, he recruited 50 youth and adult volunteers to serve 4 families with home repairs in Barbourville, Kentucky. Since then, more than 450,000 volunteers have served nearly 20,000 families with home repairs.

At ASP, we believe all people should be able to live in affordable, safe, and sanitary housing. Shelter is a basic human need impacting all areas of life for families. By organizing domestic mission trips for thousands of youth and adults each year, we can lend a hand to our neighbors in need in this beautiful region. Families are freed from worry about leaky roofs, soft floors, or unsafe porches and stairs.

Today, with the help of 10,000 volunteers each year, we make homes warmer, safer and drier for families in need. Yet ASP is more than a home repair and replacement program. Tex used to say that ASP was a relationship ministry, with a little construction on the side.

This emphasis on relationship—on seeing the people of Appalachia, of hearing their thoughts, stories and dreams—fosters transformational experiences for everyone involved. For volunteers, for families served, and for staff. This relationship building breaks down cultural, social and economic barriers that can divide us. Everyone involved with ASP has a story, and all stories are valued.

Tex said it best:

We accept people right where they are, just the way they are.

Here is a summary of the work you made possible in 2022. These statistics only scratch the surface—they don’t fully tell the stories of the lives changed by this work.

NEW BUILD

When a family's home is beyond reasonable repair, ASP's New Build program can provide them with the gift of a new home. ASP is able to build these homes using a combination of grants, private gifts from friends like you, and volunteer labor.

Whether a family receives home repairs or a replacement home, we consider these GRACE GIFTS, instantly providing home equity for low-income families and ultimately changing the trajectory of their families, and communities, forever.

Typically, families served by ASP fall below 50% area median income (AMI). In most cases, they are unable to access traditional loans and mortgages and taking on long-term debt to support housing needs is a significant barrier to purchasing health care, providing nutritious food, or investing in education. However, ASP's model provides adequate housing to families without adding debt. To be qualified for a replacement home from ASP, we verify that the family can afford the costs of taxes, utilities, and insurance.

DISASTER RECOVERY & REBUILD

Natural disasters have devastated communities in Appalachia in recent years—Dry Creek, Tennessee; Rainelle, West Virginia; Gatlinburg, Tennessee; Waverly, Tennessee; and multiple eastern Kentucky towns. And Appalachia Service Project has stepped in to help hundreds of families recover and rebuild their homes and their lives—free of charge to families.

As with ASP's New Build program, most families served by ASP's Disaster Recovery & Rebuild outreach have very low median income—less than 50% area median income (AMI). Uninsured and underinsured homeowners are left with few options for rebuilding their homes and their lives after disasters.

However, ASP's model provides adequate housing to families without adding debt. These GRACE GIFTS provide families with home equity that might otherwise be unattainable. Building these assets is how individuals, families, and communities gather the resources that will move them towards economic well-being, for now and for years to come.

In 2022, ASP was able to help fifteen (15) families recover from disaster and begin rebuilding their lives in new homes.

When they told me that my part of the cost was zero, a huge weight was lifted off my shoulders. —Eileen, Waverly TN

THANKFUL FOR YOU

Appalachia Service Project not only exists but thrives because of faithful partners like you. Because of your partnership, 9,566 lives were transformed last year.

You—our faithful partners—are the heart of Appalachia Service Project's ministry. You embody Tex's vision of accepting people right where they are, just the way they are.

Your steadfast efforts and service, and the dignity and love you share, are truly the ways of God. By opening your heart to families in Central Appalachia, you follow in Christ's footsteps—mirroring His actions with an outpouring of love.

In the following pages, and with our deepest gratitude, we acknowledge essential and valued partners of this ministry who've been faithful to His command to put love into action by helping our neighbors in need.
